

MARCH 14

“THAT WHICH IS MADE HAD NOTHING TO DO WITH ITS MAKING.”

READ

Ephesians 2:8-10

God is a good God, better than you think He is. He is kinder, has more grace and mercy than you think He does. God is the kind of God where you bring to Him what you are, not what you think you ought to be. He is not shocked by the stuff we bring and lay at His feet. He's seen it all, and He died for it all. Salvation is the beginning of the work in your life to become like Christ. He's a strategist. He looks at eternity, instead of tomorrow. He is a planner and He has a plan. He's going to make you what He wants you to be — you're under repair. I was nothing but an old piece of junk, but God saw a jewel. From the day He saved me, to this moment, He's been replacing the “junk.” It's a process — the work isn't finished yet, but, hallelujah, there is a process going on! He who began a good work is faithful to complete it.

PRAY

Jesus, I can't do the work — I'm the clay. You're the Potter. Thank You for being good and kind to me, even while You're forming me into Your chosen vessel.

From February 24, 2008